CONTENTS

WOJCIECH LIPONSKI

Western Teachers and East-European Students: An Essay on the History and Present Plight of British and American Studies in Poland .......................... 5

KRZYSZTOF VORBRICH

The Humanistic Aspects of the Copernican Controversy in England between 1543 and 1700. Part I: the Proto-Copernicans ........................................ 57

STEFAŃ ZABIEGLIK

The Scottish Enlightenment and Polish Thinkers ........................................... 73

WOJCIECH JASIASKIEWICZ

Between Reluctance and Aversion: Remarks on the Negative Attitudes of the British toward the November Uprising of 1830-1831 as Reflected in Contemporary Memoirs and Reports ........................................... 87

MARIOLA KAYSER

The Polemic between Count Edward Raczyński and David Lloyd George on the Anglo-Polish Relations at the Outbreak of World War II ......................... 115

JERZY STRZETELSKI

The Ice Saints Come Every Year ................................................................. 165

MARTA WISZNIOWSKA

Poland 1996: Waiting for “Hamlet” .......................................................... 173