

ICT in EFL resit credit test, MA3, 01/02/2014.
Circle the best answer

1. “Teachers should know about Facebook!”. In terms of Technology Skills that Every Educator Should Have, this appeal refers to:

- (a) Electronic Presentation Skills,
- (b) Web Navigation Skills,
- (c) Social Networking Knowledge,
- (d) File Management Skills,
- (e) Videoconferencing Skills.

2. Google ngrams can generate:

- (a) random combinations of letters (ngrams),
- (b) random combinations of words (ngrams),
- (c) concordances of English words,
- (d) corpora of English text,
- (e) vocabulary trend graphs.

3. The sequence of IC technologies making most sense is:

- (a) TTS → ASR → MT,
- (b) SL → MMORPG,
- (c) NLP → PAV → CMC,
- (d) VW → MUVLE → TTS
- (e) ASR → MT → TTS.

4. One of the 20 Technology Skills that Every Educator Should Have AD 2013 is IM knowledge. This is:

- (a) Instant Messaging,
- (b) Interactive-Multiplayer,
- (c) Interpretation by Machine,
- (d) Interactive Management,
- (e) Individual Mobility.

5. MT failure (like in Google Translate) can be EFL-didactically exploited for:

- (a) vocabulary memorization,
- (b) grammar-translation,
- (c) teaching listening,
- (d) teaching pronunciation,
- (e) cultural knowledge.

6. According to Jarek Krajka’s research, the ICT practices least engaged in privately are:

- (a) making podcasts,
- (b) reading blogs,
- (c) chatting,
- (d) using social networking portals,
- (e) using online dictionaries.

7. An affordance in Second Life is:

- (a) your spending power (in Linden dollars),
- (b) what you can do with the environment,
- (c) the cost of setting up an account/profile,
- (d) the augmentation of objects with EFL resources,
- (e) the synonym of avatar assertiveness.

Best answers: 1c, 2e, 3e, 4a, 5d, 6a, 7b.