

CALL placement/orientation test

© Włodzimierz Sobkowiak

ver. 6, 8th Sep 2014

	Proposition
1.	Smartphones can handle Augmented Reality.
2.	It is possible to search the web for pictures similar to the given one.
3.	Oculus Rift is another name for Google Glass.
4.	Tablet is an alternative name for a laptop.
5.	In internet text-chat we can conceal our true identity.
6.	It is possible to blog on Facebook.
7.	Headers are lines of text printed across the top of each page of a document.
8.	A spreadsheet is mostly used to protect computers from dust.
9.	Materials on the internet can be freely copied because they are not copyrighted.
10.	Firewalls are used to guard computers against harmful software.
11.	User-friendliness depends on the ease, intuitiveness and feedback a given system provides.
12.	HTML is one of many multimedia formats (like mp3 or wma).
13.	In m-learning , the m comes from mobile .
14.	ASCII is one of the better known programming languages.
15.	Speech-to-speech machine translation is possible on most smartphones.
16.	Android is the newest model of an animated robot.